25X1A

1. The R&D on the subject projects has progressed sufficiently to indicate the technical feasibility of the [redacted] program and the [redacted] program. It is projected that the follow-on emphasis will be shifted to the development of prototype operational systems.

25X1A

2. The nature of this subsequent phase of the work is becoming increasingly more sensitive, particularly from the standpoint of the operational components who will utilize the developed systems.
